

I live in an area that is underserved by radio stations. Though I can occasionally pick up NPR and a local university station, my options are limited and are often driven out by a station that fills up a lot of space on the dial, since they broadcast nearby.

XM radio has been wonderful for me, and though I am not currently in need of the traffic information, when I travel, it is very helpful. I pay a subscription for these services. I pay for it because I enjoy it and need it. Please don't prevent me from purchasing something that is useful and legal just to protect another company which doesn't like my purchasing ability. Please reject NAB's petition 04-160.

Thank you.
